

Eat & Drink

Here are some restaurant openings to look out for this spring in New York City

By Esther Wickham

 0 comments Posted on March 19, 2022

Check out some of the new restaurants opening across New York City this spring.

Momoya, SoHo 47 Prince Street, (corner Mulberry Street) This beloved family-owned Japanese restaurant, Momoya, has evolved with its new opening located in SoHo. Sushi Chef and partner Wataru Mukai and Sushi Chef Subhash Gurung serve behind a sushi bar that will serve omakase and a la carte sushi and sashimi.

